

Thinking Out of the Theater Box

There are numerous ways new technology can help us function more easily...and help us recreate nostalgic times.

Due to social distancing guidelines, theater owners may not be able to open their auditoriums to the public. If they are able to open them, it will be with a very limited number of seats. The age of drive-in movie theaters met social distancing regulations by keeping audiences in their cars at adequate distance apart.

Thinking of different ways to provide entertainment to potential customers while adhering to social distancing guidelines?

Select NEC Digital Cinema laser projectors are self-contained and feature rich including internal chillers. This allows theater venues to migrate these projectors to a protected outdoor area where they can set up an outdoor, drive-in style theater.

Consider these bright laser projectors for your drive-in style theater needs:
